leading marines first published in 1995 and updated in 2014 is the us marines main publication describing its leadership philosophy the most important responsibility in our corps is leading marines if we expect marines to lead and if we expect marines to follow we must provide the education of the heart and of the mind to win on the battlefield and in the barracks in war and in peace traditionally that education has taken many forms often handed down from marine to marine by word of mouth and by example our actions as marines every day must embody the legacy of those who went before us their memorial to us ytheir teaching compassion courage sacrifices optimism humor humility commitment perseverance love guts and glory yis the pattern for our daily lives this manual attempts to capture those heritages of the marine corps f approach to leading it is not prescriptive because there is no formula for leadership it is not all inclusive because to capture all that it is to be a marine or to lead marines defies pen and paper instead it is intended to provide those charged with leading marines a sense of the legacy they have inherited and to help them come to terms with their own personal leadership style the indispensable condition of marine corps leadership is action and attitude not words as one marine leader said gdon ft tell me how good you are show me h marines have been leading for over 200 years and today continue leading around the globe whether in the field or in garrison at the front or in the rear marines adapting the time honored values traditions customs and history of our corps to their generation will continue to lead y and continue to win this manual comes to life through the voices writings and examples of not one person but many thousands of americans who have borne and still bear the title gmarine h are testimony that gonce a marine always a marine h and gsemper fidelis h are phrases that define our essence it is to those who know and to those who will come to know this extraordinary way of life that this book is dedicated c e mundy jr general u s marine corps commandant of the marine corps marine corps warfighting publication mcwp 6 10 formerly mcwp 6 11 leading marines 2 may 2016 since our 30th commandant general carl

General Mundy first published Leading Marines in 1995. It has had a positive impact throughout our Marine Corps. It has generated spirited discussions about what it means to be a Marine and how to lead Marines, and it is the base document for the leadership curriculum in all our resident schools. Our philosophy of leadership as described in this publication is in consonance with our rich and storied past that said it was time to update Leading Marines as Marines we lead by example often instilling values using stories during the last 13 years of continuous combat. Marines have added to our legacy some of their stories superbly illustrating our leadership philosophy. You will recognize many of those stories herein. We speak in this publication about those timeless attributes that form the soul of our Corps: those attributes that carried Marines forward through the wheat fields of Belleau Wood to the strongholds of Fallujah and Marjah. Additionally, our core values, leadership traits, and leadership principles are given added emphasis in this edition. In the end, the intent of this revision is to better describe our timeless leadership philosophy. It was in this spirit that Leading Marines was revised. Simply put, this publication describes the leadership philosophy that distinguishes the U.S. Marine Corps. This publication is not meant to be a "how-to" guide on leadership; rather, it provides broad guidance in the form of concepts and values. Additionally, Leading Marines is not designed as a reference manual; it is meant to be read from cover to cover. Its three chapters have a natural progression: Chapter 1 describes our ethos, who we are, and what we do for our nation, building on that understanding; Chapter 2 covers the foundations of Marine Corps leadership; Chapter 3 then addresses overcoming the challenges our leaders face. Once you read this publication, I charge you to discuss it with your peers, subordinates, and seniors, as General Mundy laid out in his foreword to the original publication in 1995. Leading Marines is the most important responsibility in our Corps, and thus we must educate the heart and mind to prevail on the battlefield and in the barracks, in war and in peace. Notice this is a paperback book version of the Marine Corps Warfighting Publication (MCP) 6-10, formerly MCP 6-11, Leading Marines, 2 May 2016. Full version, all chapters included. This publication's current update is available as an electronic version on the official website of the United States Marine Corps. This book is properly formatted and printed as a perfect-sized copy (8.5x11). The version of this publication is as described above. This article is updated after each new edition. leadership and communication are essential for winning wars email is a reality and is good for some things however there is no substitute for f2f interaction when it comes to building relationships relationships are a reality in any organization but they are more important in an organization like the marines where lives are on the line senior leaders should establish mutually trusting relationships with junior leaders before deploying to a combat zone when it may be too late even in the best relationships and under the influence of a great leader conflict will occur some conflict is healthy but too much can be detrimental to unity marine leaders would do well to implement a comprehensive conflict management strategy in order to maintain unit cohesion and create a safe environment for junior marines to express their concerns and opinions servant leadership is a comprehensive leadership model that encompasses all necessary attributes for fostering trusting relationships and managing conflict and therefore is the most appropriate model for the marines empowering servant leaders in the marine corps will help the marines enhance their organizational culture and allow them to continue to focus on executing their primary mission protecting our nation s interest at home and abroad
